Tutoring Experience

I have worked with students from diverse academic backgrounds, offering support in IB, A-Level, and IGCSE Psychology and Sociology. My focus has always been on helping students master the key elements of the curriculum, guiding them through essay writing, past papers, and exam preparation. I aim to build their confidence and ensure they achieve the best possible grades.

Over the years, I've provided personalised tutoring for over 50 students, helping them navigate both foundational and advanced psychological concepts. Whether preparing for IB exams or tackling coursework in AP Psychology, I make sure my students develop a strong understanding of the material, preparing them for success.
