Tutoring Experience

With 15 years of experience, I have worked with students from all over the world, guiding them through the complexities of IB English Language and Literature. My expertise includes helping students master literary analysis and essay writing, preparing them for exams with confidence.

I also have extensive experience tutoring A-Level and IGCSE English, working closely with students to ensure they understand key concepts and improve their academic performance. My goal is to help students not only achieve academic success but also cultivate a deep appreciation for literature.
