Tutoring Experience

Over the past six years, I've worked closely with students preparing for their IB Geography IAs and exams, providing guidance on effective study strategies and helping them navigate complex topics. My students have consistently achieved excellent results in both coursework and final assessments.

In addition to IB, I've tutored A-Level and IGCSE Geography, supporting students in developing strong analytical skills and a deep understanding of human and physical geography. I take pride in helping students excel academically, while also encouraging a genuine interest in the subject.
